An Odoriferous Goat.

An exchange has the following as the remarks of a preacher just prior to passing the hat: "Before the steward takes up the collection," said the preacher the other night, "I would like to make a few remarks. There are over two thousand persons in this house, counting sinners and saints, crooked and straight, big and little, male and female, not including the crying babies. If each person here thinks my sermon worth the price of a glass of beer or a nickel cigar, five red tenths of a dime, let them pay that amount. If each pays a nickel, it will make a total of ten dollars this evening. This repeated every day in the year would pay my salary. A sermon that isn't worth a nickel, isn't worth coming to hear, and a person that will beat the Lord, the preacher or the printer, is a goat of odor the most odoriferous."

It Would Be Awful.

A young girl of 12 was spending the Summer where mosquitoes were abundant. The farmers protected their faces while cutting grass, the clergyman wore protectors of wire over his hands while writing his sermon and while milking the cows they built fires on the opposite side of the cows for the smoke to protect them. This girl was looking out on the scene at twilight. She said: "Don't you think it would be an awful thing to spend your whole life here and then have to go to hell when you die?"—Life.

Two lawyers in Stockton, Cal., have set a good example to sensible men who are not lawyers. They have been in partnership, but dissolved the relation and could not agree on the division of the swag. They went to law about it, but thinking better of the matter, caused the suit to be dismissed and put their difference into the hands of arbitrators. If litigants had as much sense as these two lawyers have there would be fewer litigants, fewer lawyers and much more happiness and prosperity.

The Weiland Saloon.

W. Whitney has assumed control of the Weiland saloon, which he proposes to run strictly up to the times. He will dispense the best liquors and cigars and fine old Government whiskey, which slides down your throat like oil, tickling your palate meanwhile. Call and see "Handsome Whit." fl1

E. B. Rail has just received a good stock of the Oliver Chilled Plows, also the John Deere Steel Plow, and extras for the same. He has added to his other goods to make the stock complete. Now is the time to get your paints and oils and anything in the house furnishing goods. Call and see the stock. At prices to suit the times.

Chinese Registry Law.

The Chinese in Lincoln, Nye and White Pine counties are willing to register but will have some difficulty in complying with the provisions of the Act, making it incumbent upon them to have photographs taken, as in some cases it will entail a journey of over 300 miles to reach a point where a photographer can be found. May 3rd is the last day for registering under the new law and those who cannot show good cause for not complying with it will be arrested for deportation after that date.—Enterprise.

Coal Discovery.

Robert Eason has discovered a coal mine about 18 miles northeast of Reno. The vein is about a foot wide and is situated in a slate and limestone formation. The coal burns freely and is used for black-smithing purposes by Mr. Eason. The vein is covered to a depth of about four feet by shale.

Mr. Eason intends to open a vein to some extent and see if there is any quantity of it.—Journal.

Adams Officially Notified.

Jewett W. Adams has received official notice of his appointment as Superintendent of the Carson Mint, and is preparing to fill his bond in accordance with law before assuming the duties of the position.

Yesterday's Examiner says: A cipher is seemingly a trivial thing, but when a generous compositor slips in two of them where they are not needed, so as to produce the intimation that free ships might give us a merchant marine of 300,000,000 tons instead of 3,000,000, as was done in an Examiner editorial yesterday, the result is one to make angels weep.

The compositor who made the mistake and the proof reader who overlooked it, probably both got a going over, but it is simply a typographical impossibility to print a paper free from errors.

A Madrid dispatch says: The special inspector sent to Lisbon by the Spanish Government declares that the epidemic is true Asiatic Cholera. There were 225 fresh cases reported during the 24 hours ending last evening.

COAST NEWS.

The man charged with the Roscoe train robbery will be tried at Los Angeles May 28th.

The governor has offered a reward of $300 for the arrest and conviction of the party or parties who murdered Adeline Eggleston, in Antelope valley, Mono county, on or about March 7th last.

It was reported Monday night that an attempt would be made at Ukiah to take two murderers from the jail and lynch them, but there were no leaders evidently and the authorities were on their guard.

Mrs. Hazelton who went north to seek for some evidence of her brother, James L. O'Brien, who was on the lost schooner Mary Brown, has arrived at Victoria. She has with her O'Brien's vest, which has in it three distinct knife cuts, one directly over where the heart would be and the others over the pockets. They have also a piece of Captain Brown's vest with a bullet hole through it, three silver watches, supposed to belong to Captain Gaffney, and other relics of the schooner which were purchased from Indians. Foul play has, no doubt, some connection with the wreck.

Blythe's Millions.

The Supreme Court of the State of California has decided that the estate of the San Francisco millionaire, the late Thomas Blythe, shall be awarded his illegitimate daughter, Florence Blythe. Ten decisions have been rendered by the Court in favor of the daughter. The estate is valued at $4,000,000 and was awarded to Florence after a trial which lasted several months, by the Probate Court. There were numerous claimants from many parts of the world, but the evidence indicated that Florence was the rightful heir to the property.

Both Killed.

Mosella, Mex., April 26.—John Redding and David Harper, two wealthy mining men at the Dos Cabezas camp, met and quarreled over a business matter. They agreed to settle the affair with revolvers. Both men fired at the same time, and both fell dead in their tracks.

They had been partners for several years and until their fatal quarrel had been fast friends. They were well known in the Western mining districts of the United States.

Honored.

William Hy Doane Wednesday received the following dispatch from Oakland, where the Grand Army Encampment is in progress:

"Judge J. M. Walling of Chatsworth Post, No. 115, Nevada City, Cal., was elected Department Commander, Department of California, G. A. R."

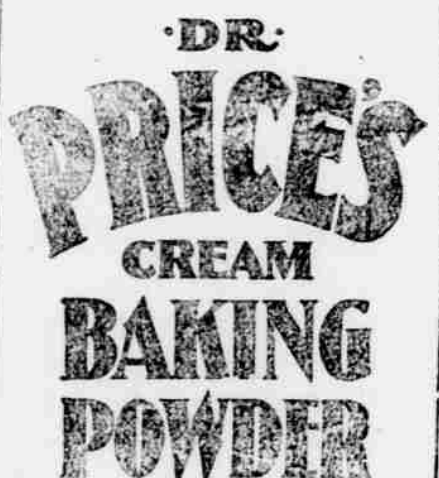

"Mrs. W. H. Crisler of Custer Corps, No. 15, Carson City, Nevada, was elected Junior Vice President, Department of California, W. R. C."

A Gold Saving Plant.

General Don Carlos Buell, is erecting a plant to save flour gold at Westport, Washington. He says the sand will yield $10 of flour gold to the ton of sand, and that enough exists on the surface of the Oregon and Washington bench to pay the National debt. He also has tests of platinum which he claims yields better than gold.

Yesterday's Enterprise says: A number of unemployed miners are working over the old waste-rock dumps at the various hoisting works in search of ore and some of them manage to make fair wages.
